Language Arts: We finished Esperanza Rising this week. The kids really enjoyed this novel and we watched a video interview with Pam Munoz Ryan to wrap up. There will be an end of Unit 2 test on Monday. With the rest of the week, we are now going to use the characters from the book to guide us in writing a literary essay. We will map out the structure of a good essay by color coding the different parts of an essay.

Social Studies: This week students will take a side! Students will prepare to discuss the Constitution through the lens of a Federalist or an Anti Federalist viewpoint. They will discuss and support their position and how it impacted the Constitution.

Math: This week, students have been working hard to master the three different strategies to use for division. On Monday we will review all strategies to prepare for the Unit 2 test. The test is a bit long so it will be broken up into two parts. Part 1 will be on Tuesday and part 2 will be on Thursday. On Friday we will have an introductory lesson on Fractions!
